

To produce the "Gandalf"-element, You can use the drawing of the "Legolas"-element. It is just a matter of counting the steps to obtain the right heights and measures.

You will have to reduce the right side of this panel in order to make it fit to the top step of the "Legolas"-element.

In the same way, you can produce the "Boromir"-element and the "Aragorn"-element.

As for the job of "ruining" all these different panels, we'd like to leave that to your imagination...
